under orders to repress disorder with a strong hand. The prompt action of the military and the knowledge that they had orders to use any amount of force to disperse rioters had the effect of cowing the mob during the dey. The authorities declare that they will put down disorder, even if it becomes necessary to order the soldiers to fire volleys into the crowds. The startling suddenness with which the scuffle between the students and the police has developed into bloody rioting can ses the government anxiety. The original cause of the trouble has been quite lost sight of in the general rioting in which all the soum of Paris, reinforced by the lawless vagabonds from Mont Martrie, Bellville and other thieves' rookeries north of the Seine are taking the part of the students. The agitation was solely directed against the manager of the students' ball being fined for allowing girls to appear in a state little removed from nudity. The students, however, have generally withdrawn from the disorders, and the issue is now between the Paris canaille and the po-

MIDNIGHT.-Rioting was resumed at 9:30 o'clock, to-night. A mob in the Boulevard St. Michel assumed a threatening attitude. and the police charged upon the crowd, driving the rioters down the Rue des Ecoles as far as the Place Mubert. There the mob made a determined stand, showering stones and every kind of missile on the police. A hand to hand fight followed, and the struggle continued until the police were reinforced by a large force of Republican guards, when the rioters were dispersed. In the meantime a body of police and Republican guards had driven off the turbulent crowds that had assembled in the vicinity of the Labor Exchange, which is now occupied by troops. At 11 o'clock there was a sanguinary encounter on the Rue des Ecoles. The exact details are wanting, but it is known that the Republican guards charged upon the rioters with drawn swords and that the police opened fire with revolvers upon the mob. One man was killed on the spot by a cutfrom a sabre. Others were taken to neighboring drug stores, where their wounds were dressed. Another mob upset and set fire to a tram car on the Rue Monge. The car was burned to ashes by the time the firemen arrived on the scene. It is believed that petroleum was used to destroy the car. Two hundred persons were arrested to-night for participating in the disturbances. The streets are now deserted.

The London Standard's correspondent says that three policemen were thrown the Seine by the mob during rioting yesterday. It is supposed that they were drowned, as they have not since been seen. The French government has ordered to Paris reinforcements from the garrisons at Versailles, Melun and other places.

Le Temps says that forty-two policemen and sixteen Republican guards were wounded during the fighting yesterday. Eighteen kiosks were burned and forty-five others ransacked. The Municipal Council held an excited meeting, at which resolutions were adopted to the effect that the prevailing disorders are due to the hostility of the police toward the citizens. The Council throws the responsibility for the disturbances upon Prefect of Police Loze and his hierarchisal chief. Premier Dupuy.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. COLUMBUS, Ind., July 5 .- Ralph Drake, who murdered Mrs. Ida Ward, June 1, has been declared of unsound mind by the insanity commission. From the effects of this snot Drake has suffered intensely since his confinement in the county jail and his attending physician has watched bim closely, and a few days ago informed his relatives that he should be placed in the asylum, where he could better treated. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. PERU, Ind., July 5 .- The twenty-fifth anniversary to the priesthood of the Rev. Father Meisner, pastor of the church in this city, was celebrated to-day, and was one of the most notable gatherings in the history of the church in this city. The gathering was presided over by Bishop Rademacher, of Nashville, Tenn., assisted by nearly one hundred priests from all over the Western States. A grand parade, participated in by the various church societies and visiting priests, and followed by high mass, were the morning features. The sermon was delivered by the Very Rev. A. B. the company's shops at Washington.

Yesterday Spent by the Delegates in Sight-Seeing in and About the City.

Welcome from the Organ of the Roman Catholic French People-Services in the Churches last Night.

MONTREAL, July 5.—This has been a day of quiet enjoyment for the Christian Endeavorers in the city. They climbed the heights, took little excursions on the St. Lawrence, shot the Lachine rapids, besieged the shops and in many ways made themselves at home in the Canadian metropolis. After luncheon the local committee of 1893 followed Rev. Mr. Clark to the ladies' ordinary, and there A. A. Ayer, the chairman, pinned on the lapel of the president's coat a gold medal handsomely designed, in commemoration of this visit to Montreal. Secretary Baer and the treasurer, William Shaw, of Boston, were also the recipients of silver medals, after the same pattern of that of the president.

After the presentations President Clark, Secretary Baer and Treasurer Shaw met in secret session with the board of treatees for prayer and transaction of business. The session was a protracted one, lasting from about 1 o'clock until after 6 this evening. Much interest was centered in this meeting, for it was expected that the officers would be re-elected and the place of meeting in 1895 decided upon. Neither of these points was completed, and the meeting closed at the hour named with the work in the hands of the committees appointed for the purpose. On behalf of San francisco as the next meeting place Mr. Rollett Watt, of that city, appeared to press its claim. But no action was taken, pending the arrival of the Denver delegation. Mr. Baer stated that he was inclined to think that Denver would waive its claim for 1895, provided that city would be promised the convention in 1896.

Preparatory to the opening meeting here to-morrow the drill hall presents a very inviting appearance. There is an abundance of color. Flags of all nations lend grace to the bare walls. The arms of all of the provinces clasp the flags in pride and dignity. The platform rises tier above tier almost to the roof. Here the choir will sing the songs of the convention. A noteworthy instance of American amiability was manifested by the Michigan and Wisconsin delegates when they called for three hearty cheers for a British soldier who was on duty at one of the stations.

Nothing is wanting to complete the heartiness of Montreal's welcome to visitors. The feeling of the Roman Catholic French people of Montreal is voiced tonight by Lammerve, ap Ultramontane paper. It says: "The great Protestant convention which opens here to-day is one of exceptional interest to Catholics. Our daty under the circumstances is plain. It is, first of all, to respect the distinguished visitors; secondly, to cause the Roman Catholic religion to be loved. A large number of Protestants who are removed from it by false ideas, by unfortunate prejudices, may learn to'appreciate us and to come nearer to our belief. It is for us now to seize upon this occasion and to show that we are the true disciples of Him who gave the example of all the virtues and at the same time preached the love and respect of the neighhor. We, therefore, welcome the Christian Endeavor Society, and we hope all its members will return to their homes satisfied with Catholic Montreal.'

In five of the city churches to-night prayer meetings were held, with addresses from some of the prominent delegates. The proceedings were taken part in by a number of the delegates. Christian Endeavor hymns being sung by the congregation, which in every case large. In the St. James Methodist Church interest centered in the address of Rev. J. Wilber Chapman, of Albany, N. Y., on "Receiving the Holy Ghost for Power." Rev. Theo. L. Cuyler. of Brooklyn, ran across the street through the rain from the Windsor Hotel to the Erskine Presbyterian Church. A packed house greeted the celebrated divine. His subject was characteristic: "The Prayer That Hath Power," and was listened to with interest. In St. Matthew's Presbyterian Church, "Some Pressing Needs and How to Supply Them" was the subject dealt with by Rev. J. Z. Tyler, of Cleveland, O. The pressing need, according to the speaker, was a clearer insight and faith in the spiritual conditions of mankind and faith in Christ in this age of skeptism and

Douglas Methodist Church was filled by an audience that listened to the address by Rev. W. H. McMillan, of Allegheny City, Pa., on "The Conditions of Receiving the Holy Spirit." Mr. McMillan dealt with the awful mystery surrounding the rejection and neglecting the Holy Ghost and the conditions surrounding the acceptance of the divine assurance of salvation. The sermon was largely devoted to rousing the enthusiaem and devotion of the delegates to enter heartily into the work of the convention. The American Presbyterian Church was naturally filled to overflowing with delegates from the United States. An individual consecration service was conducted by Rev. H. C. Harrer, of Albany, N. Y., which was participated in by the audience individually realfirming their adhesion to the acts, objects and pledges of Christian Endeavor.

Crops of All Kinds in the Schuylkill Valley Destroyed by a Severe Storm.

Flood from a Black Cloud that Broke Over Reading and Vicinity-Ground Covered with Hailstones Big as Hickory Nuts.

READING, Pa., July 5 .- This city was visited by a hailstorm, this afternoon, which, for destructiveness, eclipsed all previous storms of the kind since 1866. The storm originated about three miles west of Reading, and covered a width of four miles. Shortly before 5 o'clock a black cloud appeared in the western horizon, and moved eastward rapidly. Twenty minutes later the streets of the city were covered with hail and water, and the sewers became choked, being too small to carry off even one-tenth of the water. Grain, corn, oats, flower gardens, grapes and other fruits were destroyed. The vineyards on Mount Penn are ruined, and the owners don't expect to obtain more than 5 per cent. of the crop. Many of these vineyards covered acres, and there is nothing left but the South of Reading, especially along the Schuylkill valley, the destruction to crops was very great. The wheat, rye and oats crops, not yet cut, were leveled to the ground, and many of the fields flooded. At Birdsboro hall fell to the depth of three inches, and in some places was piled up to a depth of nearly a foot. The stones were the size of hickory nuts, and fell so rapidly that pedes trians in this city were driven from the side walks. Street-car horses became unmanageable from the pelting hail, and the drivers were compelled to stop the cars and seek shelter, because of the hail striking them on the hands. In the southern and northeastern part of the city many cellars were flooded, and in some instances the water rushed through buildings, ruining carpets, etc.

At Royerstord trains were delayed wenty minutes by the tracks being flooded. A passenger train got into the storm at Phenixville and remained in it until it was near Pottstown. The storm is described as terrific and the bail pelting the roofs of the cars caused quite a panic among the passengers. It is believed that the damage in the Schuylkill valley will reach many thousands of dollars. The glass of the hot houses in this city and in the track of the storm were shattered and thousands of young plants ruined. The beautiful young flowers and plants which were just set out by the Reading company at the Reading station were cut to pieces. The Reading forge on North Eighth street was flooded to the depth of four feet. The fires had to be drawn and the works will have to be shut down.

Nearly an Inch in Diameter. PHILADELPHIA, July 5 .- Probably the severest hailstorm that has visited this section in years passed over the northern part of Philadelphia between 6 and 7 o'clock this evening. The rain which accompanied it was very heavy, flooding streets and cellars. Hailstones nearly an inch in diameter fell for fully tifteen minutes, breaking thousands of panes of glass and cutting trees and shrubbery to pieces. A gale blew during the prevalence of the storm, and much damage was done to trees and insecure buildings and fences. Reports from points in the eastern portion of the State indicate that the storm was very heavy and did much damage. There was some anxiety about the Delaware peach crop, but dispatches say the storm did not extend that far.

Washouts Around Kansas City. KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 5 .- Passenger business on the Missouri Pacific, the Rock Island, the Hannibal & St. Joseph, the Burlington and the Wabash railways was more or less demoralized this morning by serious washouts that seemed to have occurred last night almost on every side of Kansas City. The trains leaving Kansas City were all effected by the delays. the mails for the West were stopped and no end of confusion and inconvenience caused. The tracks will all be cleared to-day so that trains will be running on time to-
